ACT64. Shadow's Mimicry

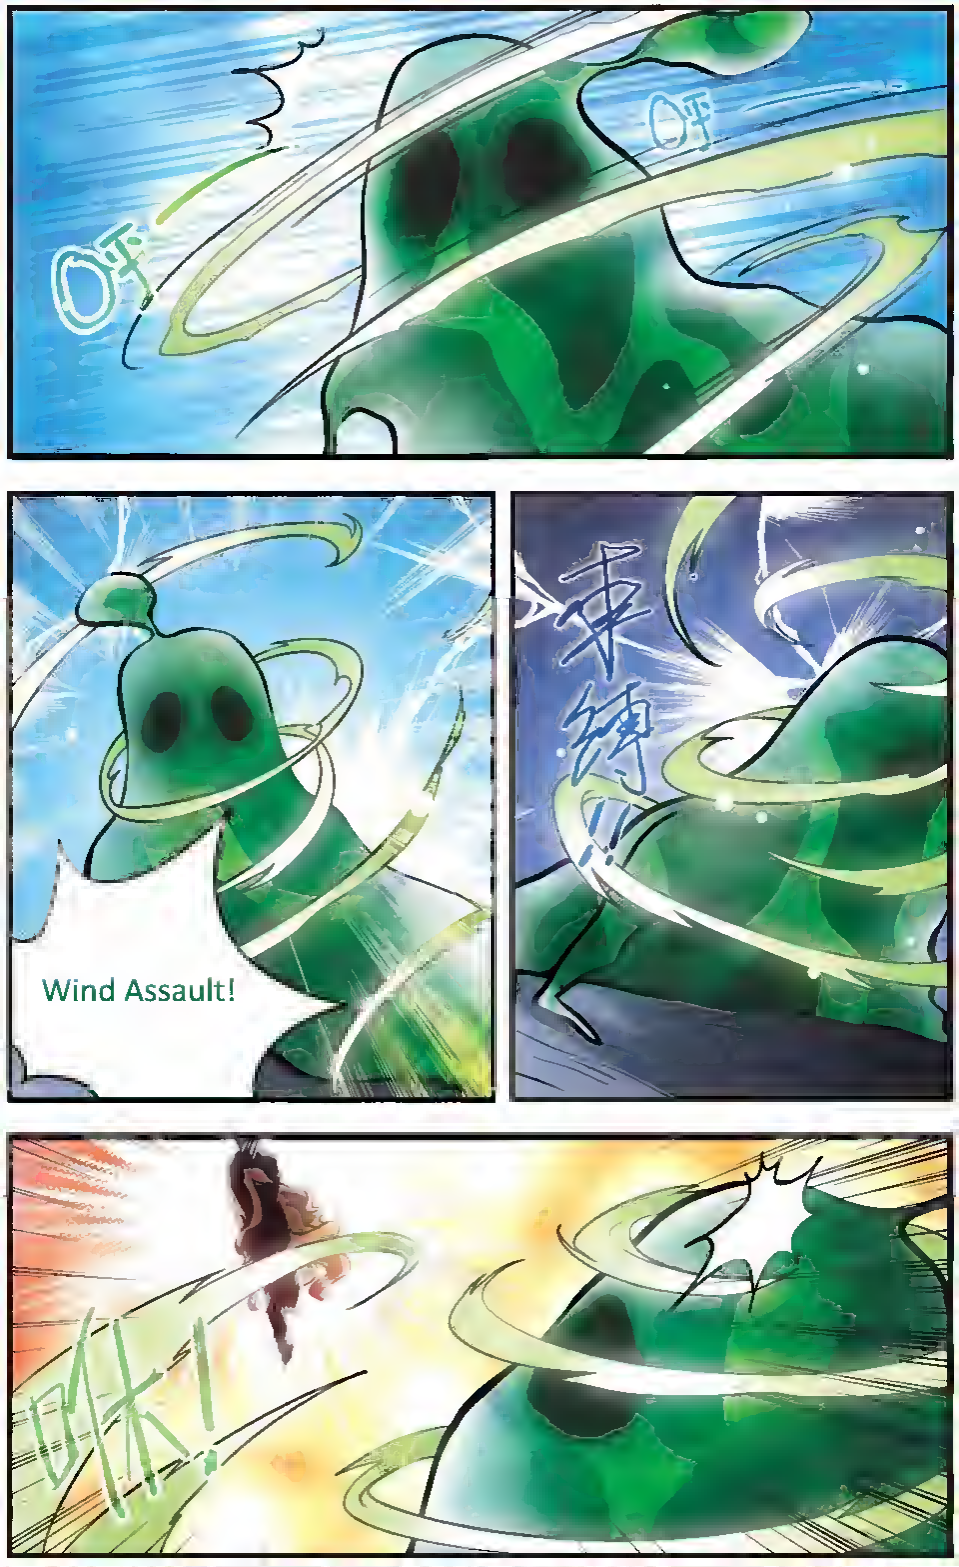
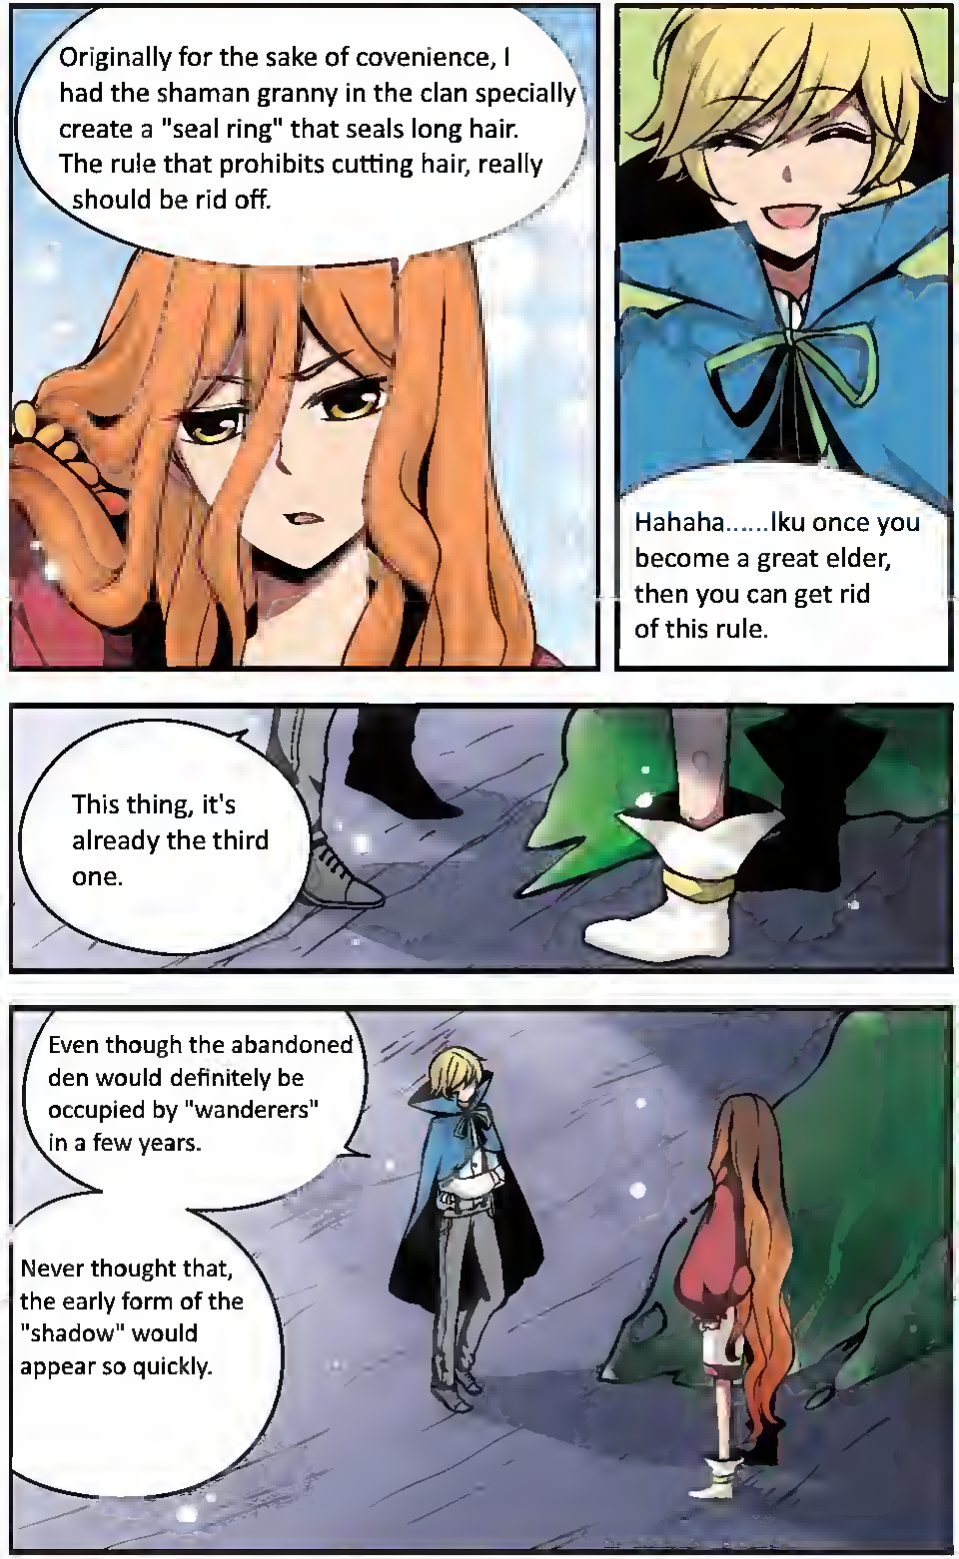
大魔王!



Wind Assault!

SLASH!

Yay, the perfect one hit kill!
Tch, this hair really gets in the way.
Sorry, used up all the "seal rings" in one go.
Only by having your seal ring clash with the academy's seal that is outside the abyss, we are then able to open the den.
Never would have thought, that Iku's hair would suddenly become so long.



Originally for the sake of covenience, I had the shaman granny in the clan specially create a "seal ring" that seals long hair. The rule that prohibits cutting hair, really should be rid off.
Hahaha.....Iku once you become a great elder, then you can get rid of this rule.
This thing, it's already the third one.
Even though the abandoned den would definitely be occupied by "wanderers" in a few years.
Never thought that, the early form of the "shadow" would appear so quickly.

No matter what the reason is, we have to quickly get out of here.
The academy might already suspect that we left.
Okay, let's continue searching for the exit.
Comocky's voice is not far away.
Hurry!
They're over there!

The spirits of flomes, pleose heor to my call, and converge your anger into the scorching wind, until oll evil is burnt------
